

Henry Brim

Adversity. Triumph. Strength. Henry Brim has overcome numerous physical, social and occupational obstacles in his life. Blind since age 3 as a result of congenital glaucoma, Henry courageously speaks to others about ways to battle disability and despair, while helping to dispel the stigmas and myths associated with blindness.

In his presentations, Henry shares stories of growing up young and blind, tackling stereotypes and negativity as young adult, and maturing into adulthood while building a family and a career.

A 1997 honors graduate of Baltimore City College High School, Henry is pursuing a Bachelor's of Science degree at the University of Baltimore in Business Management.

In addition to his career as a motivational speaker, Henry is employed as a scheduling specialist with Verizon Wireless.

Henry has been a featured presenter to numerous public schools, churches, and community events, including The Gilman School. He has been the subject of several feature new stories on WMAR-Channel 2 (Baltimore) and WJZ-Channel 13 (Baltimore), and has shared the airwaves with former Senator Larry Young.

Through his own personal experiences, humor and positivity, Henry uses his life as an example to help others accept and conquer their own challenges and guide them towards their goals.
